For years, I have called this column “Counting our Blessings.” This month, in particular, I want to invite all of us to pause and do just that. We are preparing to welcome a new year, 5778 in our Jewish calendar. Our Congregation, Shaare Emeth, will formally begin to celebrate our sesquicentennial, marking 150 years since we were founded in 1867. We are in the process of completing our “Shaare the Vision” project that has renewed our physical facility, increased our accessibility for all, improved our ability to successfully fulfill our congregational mission and established a firmer financial foundation for the future. We have many blessings to count!

These blessings, of course, extend far beyond our newly renovated building. We are a thriving Congregation that represents the very best of the values of Reform Jewish ideas and aspirations. We are made up of many individuals and families who share common goals and dreams. We are blessed with strong and visionary lay leadership, a talented and dedicated staff and countless volunteers and congregants who share in our vision. Our worship services each week bring together those who wish to welcome Shabbat with those who seek to celebrate, mourn, find comfort, give comfort, learn, pray and simply be together in the powerful ways that our people have gathered throughout the ages.

Our congregational programs continue to thrive as well. Camp Emeth and Camp Micah have just completed wonderful summers filled with joy, learning, sharing and growth. Numerous activities and events bring members of the Congregation together throughout the year to learn, act and grow in spiritual practice. Members of Shaare Emeth’s Tzdekh Committee lead the way in our community’s efforts to create a better world through partnerships with the International Institute, Room at the Inn and other advocates for social change. The list goes on.

As individuals, we would also do well to count our own blessings. While many of us struggle with great challenges in our personal and family lives, we draw strength from the resources of love, joy, beauty and kindness that surround us. Jewish tradition teaches that we should begin each day with these words of gratitude: “Modeh Ani Lefanecha – I give thanks to You, God, the Ruler of all that exists, for You have returned my soul to me with great mercy, for great is Your faithfulness.” In these traditional words lies a powerful way to count our blessings. In essence, we say: “God, no matter what, in times of challenge and celebration, I take a moment to express my gratitude for life, for whatever reminds me that I am here, for everything that is true and good in my life.”

This is no “Pollyanna” denial of the reality of profound pain and challenge that surround us. We know there is much work to do. This knowledge itself presents a boundless potential for blessing. Working to bring justice, do acts of kindness, increase equality and opportunity for others and build bridges of understanding are all ways to increase our own awareness of the rich blessings manifest in our own lives and in the lives of others.

As we welcome 5778, Amy and I, along with our entire family, join in wishing you a “Shanah Tovah U’veracha” – a good year of blessing.

We have a new blog series!

Follow our Shaare Emeth blog to learn more about Mishkan Hanefesh, our new High Holiday prayer book. During the month of Elul, leading up to the High Holidays, read and learn from the clergy about this inspirational and moving text.

I would like to propose a shift in perspective as we enter this season of celebration. The significance of perspective cannot be overstated. The way we see people is reflected in how we treat them. The way we see our responsibility to the greater community is reflected in how we choose to serve. The way we see our relationship with G-d is reflected in the time, energy and commitment we put forth to foster and grow that relationship. Perspective drives action.

When I first heard about the closing of Ladue Road, my reaction was one of frustration and annoyance. After reviewing the situation, though, I began to intentionally change my thought pattern. I realized that instead of focusing on the negative side of our immediate situation, I could broaden my perspective in order to recognize that this construction would ultimately lead to a safer road. My annoyance was quickly replaced by gratitude for the fact that we live in a city that has the ability to fix its roads when they become dangerously deteriorated.

Often, when our perspective is negative, it’s simply because we haven’t taken the opportunity to look at the bigger picture.

Take membership and involvement, for example. When there are so many things vying for our time and resources, one more activity or cost from your faith community can seem like a burden. If we step back, however, it’s easy to see that belonging to this wonderful Congregation is a privilege. There are many places that don’t have such a thriving Jewish community.

If we view membership in this way, it can help reduce barriers to generosity. We at Shaare Emeth have been working diligently over the past 150 years to make this Congregation a beacon of the Jewish community in St. Louis. We have been able to do so because of the faithful support of our members. As we enter this time of reflection and celebration, I would ask you to consider stretching the boundaries of your own generosity even further.

We can make a difference. We can impact our synagogue and community for the better. We have that privilege. When we sacrifice our time or money for the sake of the Temple, it is mitzvah. Please remember that when you receive your membership responsibility forms this year. Serving is our privilege, and we thank you for your continued support.

This summer was an exciting one for Congregation Shaare Emeth, but it also brought its fair share of challenges. From the city of Creve Coeur closing Ladue for construction to our air conditioning breaking down for several days due to severe temperatures, we’ve had plenty of unexpected obstacles arise over the past few months. Through it all, we were consistently amazed by the patience, understanding and graciousness of our Shaare Emeth community. While we might have preferred for these events to not have occurred in the first place, we are grateful for the strength and unity exhibited by our Shaare Emeth family during these potentially stressful situations. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Rosalie Stein

Stock & Mutual Funds

Shaare Emeth sometimes receives donations in the form of stock and mutual funds. While we appreciate this generosity on the part of our members, we often do not know who supplied the funds and therefore are not sure how to apply them. If you have contributed stock or mutual funds in the recent past or decide to contribute in that way in the future, please call Ron Bergman at 314-692-5037 with your name and instructions for applying the payments. Thank you for your cooperation!

Shaare the Vision Update

Dear Fellow Shaare Emeth Members,

Our Shaare the Vision renovations continue to move along on schedule, and the vast changes are both breathtaking and rejuvenating. We would especially like to thank everyone for their patience in navigating the parking lot while the City of Creve Coeur completes the repairs of Ladue Road. We are incredibly proud of the many diligent and committed workers who have made this project possible. Thank you for your cooperation and safe driving practices throughout the construction effort. We hope you share our excitement about this new spiritual home of which we can all be proud.

Very Sincerely,
Josh Wallach and Joe Pereles,
Shaare the Vision Co-chairs

Building Community Through Worship

Three New Ways to Celebrate Shabbat in our 150th Year

Every week, on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings, our community comes together to welcome Shabbat. Together we pray, rejoice with those celebrating a simcha (joyous event) and comfort those who are mourning. Beginning this month and continuing throughout the year, we are excited to be offering three new ways to celebrate Shabbat.

Simchat Shabbat

Simchat Shabbat is a joy-filled, intergenerational, participatory service held on the first Friday evening of every month. We have assembled a new band who will lead us in high energy, contemporary music, and birthday blessings will be offered as well. While Simchat Shabbat is embraced by members of all ages, it includes a special component designed just for elementary-age children. After our birthday blessings (about half-way through the service) children are invited to join a member of our clergy for a separate Torah service that will include age-appropriate music, a story and a special Torah reading led by our teens. While children are participating in this program, the rest of the Congregation will remain in the sanctuary for a sermon and concluding prayers. Both experiences will conclude together with a closing song led by our children.

Tater Tot Shabbat

Tater Tot Shabbat is a worship experience designed specifically for families with children age 0-5. Join members of our clergy, our ECE Director Karen Lucy and our good friend Mitzvah Moose as we sing, clap our hands, join in blessings and welcome Shabbat together. After a brief service, all families are invited to share together in a complimentary Shabbat dinner. Reservations are required.

Eat, Pray, Learn

Eat, Pray, Learn is a Shabbat morning worship experience that combines a soulful, contemplative service with an opportunity to study and discuss our weekly Torah portion. Led by members of our clergy, this highly participatory service provides a beautiful way to begin our Sabbath morning. All are invited to remain after services for bagels, coffee and juice.

The Holidays offer a reflective moment for me. I allow myself time to reflect upon the successes and improvements of Camp Micah while looking forward to the upcoming months at Shirlee Green Preschool.

We celebrated the organized clamor of a fun summer of Disney movie themes this year. Kayla Ellis, Camp Micah’s Director, and the professional staff of counselors enjoyed quirky and engaging moments with the children during water play, butterfly garden creation, peach-picking in our miniature orchard, and bubble and gym bus visits! Although carpool faced some challenges at times, we learned to be patient while maintaining a safe atmosphere for our children.

As we enter the new preschool year, I am mindful of the many ways to celebrate the Holidays and other events as a community. Our calendar is filled with events such as a morning program on Sukkot at Theiss Farm, free Baby ‘n’ Me classes two mornings per week and many Tater Tot Shabbat programs throughout the year. I encourage you to take a moment to view the preschool website at www.preschool.sestl.org for detailed calendar information along with heart-touching pictures of the children.

We are thankful for the journey that has led us to where we are and hope for continued growth and success as we look toward the future.

International Institute Summer Camp

The Jewish Coalition for New Americans (a committee of the Jewish Community Relations Council) organized a four-week summer camp for refugee children at the International Institute this summer for the first time. While their parents took English classes upstairs, 40-50 New American kids sang, played games, learned new words, ate delicious meals (courtesy of Food Outreach) and developed close relationships with nearly 100 volunteers from the Jewish community. The camp was made possible through a partnership between Congregation Shaare Emeth, Central Reformed Congregation, Temple Israel and United Hebrew Congregation.

Walk to End Alzheimer’s

As we get older, more and more of us will be touched by Alzheimer’s Disease or other forms of dementia either directly, as a family member or as a caregiver. All over the world, including here in St. Louis, work is being done to find ways of preventing or curing Alzheimer’s.

Please join Team Shaare Emeth as we Walk to End Alzheimer’s on the morning of Saturday, September 16. The opening ceremony is at 9:30 a.m., and we will begin walking at about 10:00 a.m. The route is an easy one on level downtown streets, starting and ending at the Scottrade Center. You can register online at www.sestl.org/alzheimers or stop by the Temple to fill out a paper form.

Registration is free, but donations are encouraged.

Why should you join Team Shaare Emeth as we Walk to End Alzheimer’s?

• To raise awareness about Alzheimer’s Disease.
• To raise your spirits and the spirits of those impacted by Alzheimer’s.
• To raise money to further the care, support, education and research provided by the Alzheimer’s Association

What’s New At New Mt. Sinai Cemetery

Each year on the Sunday between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, hundreds gather at the New Mt. Sinai Mausoleum (8430 Gravois Rd., 63123) for our Memorial Service honoring those who passed away and were buried at New Mt. Sinai since the previous Yom Kippur. This year’s service on Sunday, September 24th, will be led by Cantor Seth Warner, with the participation of myself and Linda Blumenthal and members of the St. Louis Symphony. The service is short - about 40 minutes - and meditative. This marks the 19th year that we have offered this beautiful service to the community. The service will begin at 11:30 a.m., and it is free of charge and open to the public. No reservations are required, and light refreshments will be served immediately following the service. We hope to see you at the Memorial Service.

Dear Friends,

L'Shanah Tovah! We are so pleased to invite you to join with our Congregation Shaare Emeth family to usher in the year 5778. During the High Holidays each year we gather with our families, friends and community to come together in prayer, study and celebration of a new year.

When we say Happy New Year this year, we will have much that is new for which to be grateful. We are, of course, concluding our “Shaare the Vision” Campaign that has renovated and renewed our facilities to better fulfill our congregational mission. “Congregation Shaare Emeth is a compassionate and inclusive community that makes Judaism relevant, meaningful and joyful.” We are thrilled to be able to welcome the new year together in our beautiful, newly renewed sanctuary, chapel, auditorium and more. We are excited to introduce our new High Holiday prayerbook, Mishkan HaNefesh, that will help us bring new meaning into our worship and prayer. Yet we know that it is our community – all of us – that makes us truly unique. Please join us with your presence, your voice and your special contribution as we celebrate and give thanks.

It is our tradition to extend the warmest possible “Welcome!” as we open our doors to all who wish to join us during the High Holidays and throughout the year. All members of the Congregation and all guests and visitors are welcome to join us for our services; no tickets are necessary. We are grateful to our members who do their part to support our mission through their generous contributions. We hope that visitors and guests will feel similarly inspired to join and support our community during the coming year; we welcome your generous support to make our work possible. We depend on the generosity, participation and energy of each member of our community.

Please use these High Holidays as a time of personal renewal and rededication; a time to bring more meaning to your life. We look forward to you becoming even more active in the community and life of Congregation Shaare Emeth during the coming year! We can’t wait to wish you “L’shanah Tovah” in person. We hope and pray that this will be a year of sweetness, joy and peace for all.

This year we will not be sending out a special issue of the Bulletin for the High Holidays. Instead, you can find complete, up-to-date information on our website at www.sestl.org/highholidays.

New Prayer Books for the High Holidays

Congregation Shaare Emeth has purchased new prayer books just in time for the High Holy Days.

Mishkan HaNefesh: Machzor for the Days of Awe offers meaningful liturgy for both regular service attendees and those new to Jewish spirituality and practice. The Board of Trustees has voted that we will begin providing all prayer books to our Congregation. You will no longer need the Gates of Repentance prayer books.

We are offering the opportunity for you to dedicate a prayer book in honor or in memory of a loved one, or in honor of a special occasion. Your prayer book dedication will offset the cost of providing these books for our Congregation. A bookplate with your name will be placed inside the two-volume set for a contribution of $45.

Beginning September 5, you may bring your Gates of Repentance books to the Temple and we will be happy to donate them to another congregation or place them in a genizah (sacred Jewish burial). This collection will end on Friday, October 13.

If you would like to purchase your own copy of Mishkan HaNefesh, they are available on Amazon in hardback or Kindle form.

For more information, contact Rosalie Stein at 314-692-5353 or rstein@sestl.org.

For Homebound Congregants

We realize that some of our members are prevented from joining us in person because they have medical conditions which severely limit their mobility. This year, through the generosity of the Rabbis’ and Cantor’s Special Funds, we are pleased to make a limited number of prayer books available to homebound members to borrow for the High Holy Days. If you would like to borrow a prayer book, please contact Stacy Jespersen at 569-0010 and she will be happy to assist you.

For updated High Holiday information visit our website at www.sestl.org/highholidays.

Saunders Schultz, a member of Congregation Shaare Emeth who was known internationally as a visionary artist, died July 17, 2017, the day after his 90th birthday.

In 1960, Mr. Saunders founded the sculpture studio Scopia. He created and installed 298 pieces during his 75-year career as an artist, ranging in size from one to 27-stories tall. They can be found in 37 states and various parts of the world, including Moscow, Singapore and Saudi Arabia. Each piece was created to relate to its architectural and natural surroundings.

Among his works is a sculpture and fountain at Congregation Shaare Emeth, along with candelabra. He designed projects for numerous other Jewish organizations, including the Jewish Community Center.

Mr. Schultz collaborated on projects with many of the world’s leading architects and landscape architects, including Eero Saarinen, Eric Mendelsohn, Minoru Yamasaki, Philip Johnson, Paul Friedberg, Nolan Bass, Tehodore J. Wofford, and many others.

Among the many awards received by Mr. Schultz were the Carnegie Institute Achievement Award; First Prize at the Invitational Competition, University of Wisconsin; National Competition for the Washington Hebrew Congregation in Washington, D.C., and several others.

His work has been featured in numerous publications including ART news, Architectural Record, Architecture Forum and AIA Architect.

Rabbi Stiffman recalled visiting Mr. Schultz on the last day of his life, which coincided with his 90th birthday. “Sandy was alert and smiling and looked around the room to every one there, saying ‘I love you.’ His spirit persisted to the very end, and we all looked up to him.”
